

Summary

A 74 years old lady, on treatment for seronegative rheumatoid arthritis for 20 years duration, complicated with renal impairment, anemia and osteoporosis was referred from rheumatology clinic for progressive, pain and stiffness of right-side knee joint for 1-year duration

Clinical evaluation revealed she has osteoarthritis of both knee joints and she underwent total knee replacement surgery of right knee joint, which was uneventful. She is symptomatic and awaiting left knee surgery.