

Summary

A 62 year old lady presented with right sided hip pain following an accidental fall and was found to have shortened and externally rotated right lower limb. She was diagnosed to have right sided extracapsular non-displaced fracture neck of femur in X-ray. She underwent right sided Dynamic Hip Screw insertion surgery followed by post-operative physiotherapy and mobilization.