

Abstract

Although infrequent, patients with inflammatory bowel disease may develop Hodgkin and non-Hodgkin lymphoma. Prolonged thiopurine use, past Epstein-Barr virus infection, high disease activity and use biological treatment are some of the predisposing risk factors.